Position on Potential College Faculty Strike – 2010

Faculty at Ontario's colleges of applied arts and technology will be conducting a strike vote on February 10, 2010. The results of the strike vote potentially put faculty in a strike position by February 17, 2010.

In the event of a strike by college faculty, Contact North | Contact Nord centres in Northern Ontario and its centres in Central, Eastern and Western Ontario operating as elearnnetwork.ca, will be open and students will be able to participate in their scheduled classes. Where necessary, our staff will cross the picket lines to attend work while respecting the striking faculty.

Contact North | Contact Nord and its staff will not offer any opinion on the strike or the negotiations and will continue to provide service to students.

Students with questions regarding a potential strike should contact the college with whom they are registered for further information and direction.
